

SCHOOL CHEERS FOR BOY WHOSE SIGHT IS RESTORED

Eight-Year-Old Henry Weber
Receives a Warm Welcome
From Playmates.

Great was the jubilation to-day in Public School No. 29, at Cypress avenue and One Hundred and Thirty-sixth street, when eight-year-old Henry Weber was led in by the smiling principal, Miss Lynch, and seated amidst his old schoolmates. School discipline dissolved into a hearty cheer and a round of applause.

Henry was injured last July while playing with some companions on a lot near an unfinished building. Some one threw some mortar and the lad was struck in the right eye, injuring the sight. The other eye was badly affected also, and all summer long Henry was unable to take an active part in the vacation fun.

He built himself a little lemonade stand out of an old toy express wagon and sold lemonade to his former playmates, the earnings going to aid in the support of his mother in their flat at No. 112 St. Ann's avenue, the Bronx. When school opened in the fall Henry was unable to resume his studies. It was impossible for him to read more than a moment or two with his one half blind eye. The boy was a studious little chap and felt the blow keenly.

Some weeks ago some one interested Dr. Wilmer H. Allen of No. 312 William avenue in Henry's condition. Dr. Allen undertook to bring Henry's sight back and succeeded so well that a few days ago the lad removed the eye bandages and found himself in the possession of perfect vision.

To-day his mother and other relatives accompanied Henry to the school and turned him over to Miss Lynch. Although he has lost several months school work Henry is considered such a bright boy that he is expected to catch up with his old comrades before the end of the present term.

PRETTY GIRL WEDS YOUTH; SAVES HIM FROM PRISON.
Interrupts Special Sessions Judges,
Who Are About to Sentence Him.

The Justice in Special Sessions were about to pronounce sentence to-day upon Charles Ehlers, twenty years old, who had violated a parole granted last June when a pretty young woman dressed in blue and wearing white furs got up and asked for a delay. She said she was Viola Van Riper of Homestead street, East New York.

"Charles and I are engaged to be married," she said. "He has been out of work and in bad luck. Now he is going to get a job, and I am willing to look after him and keep him straight."

Ehlers looked a little surprised but was willing to take his part in the game, even if it had a leap year flavor. In the company of a police officer, the couple went to the Children's Court and were married by Judge Wilkins.

Then they returned to Special Sessions. Charles promised to be good in the future and sentence was suspended. The young man was arrested a year ago after he had forged a slot telephone instrument with a cold chisel and received it of $3 in nickels and dimes. He was sentenced to one year in Elmira Reformatory, but was paroled in June. Two weeks ago he was arrested, charged with a petty theft of which there was no adequate proof, but he was in trouble and was about to be sent back on the old charge when the young woman came along and saved him by marrying him.

NEW TROLLEY SERVICE FOR QUEENSBORO TO-MORROW.
Branch of Third Avenue Railway
Will Be Opened, Greatly Improving Facilities.

The new Queensboro Bridge service of the Third Avenue Railway will be inaugurated to-morrow. All arrangements have been completed, rolling stock has been assigned and employees have been designated for the new branch of the system.

The route of the new line extends from the Plaza of the Queensboro Bridge, in Long Island City, across to Third avenue in Manhattan, down Third avenue to Forty-second street and across town to the West Shore ferries. Transfers will be issued and recognized at all points where the cars of the new route connect with the lines of the Third Avenue Railway and the Forty-second Street Railway.

This system virtually opens up Manhattan to Queens by a through trolley service from the east end of the bridge. The shuttle trolley service on the bridge, conducted by an arrangement between the city and the South Shore Traction Company, will be continued, but is entirely independent of the Third Avenue through service.

TRUSTS BLACKMAILED.
CULBERSON TELLS SENATE.
Presidential Campaign of 1904 Surpassed All Others in Indecency, Says Senator.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23.—"We know corporations engaged in interstate commerce were intimidated and blackmailed for campaign contributions," said Senator Culberson in reviewing the alleged activities of national campaign committees in 1904. He was urging action on his resolution providing for an investigation.

"The year 1904 surpassed all others in the audacity and indecency with which campaign funds were demanded," he said.

Late were read to show that Republicans in 1890, 1900 and 1904 received far larger contributions than the Democrats.

LITTLE SCHOLAR WHOSE SIGHT HAS BEEN RESTORED.

HENRY WEBER.

MANY SEE SKATER DROWN.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 23.—In the presence of hundreds of merry-makers who were enjoying the skating on the Delaware River last night, Carl T. P. Johnson of Lynn, Mass., a sailor attached to the battleship Indiana, broke through the ice and was drowned.

The accident occurred near the Philadelphia Navy Yard, where the Indiana is anchored, and all the sailors at the station joined in the hunt for the body, which was recovered to-day.

Trousers $5.50
Waistcoat $3.75
Dinner Jacket to match $27.50

Special models to fit any man—the unusually stout, the unusually tall, those below average height.

Alterations whenever necessary are made without charge by our expert tailors on the premises.

Dress Waistcoats
Three-button style or four-button style. Pique, in wide and narrow ribs, from $2.75 to $3.96
Mercerized, from $3.96 to $5.50
Silk, from $5.50 to $8.50

Special attention is called to our finger grades of silk vests which we sell at a little more than half the price charged in the specialty stores which also carry them. An illustration of Macy's values is to be found in the figured silk vest which we sell at $7.50 and which is shown in a Broadway specialty shop at $12.50.

These waistcoats have hand-made buttonholes and are finished with an attention to detail that can best be appreciated by those who understand the fine points of tailoring.

Full Dress Shields and Protection, in black and white silks, 94c to $5.96.

Desirable Dress Overcoats
Silk-Lined Throughout and with Silk Velvet Collars.
Reduced to $21.50

Many of our fur-lined coats and our fur overcoats now bear special reduced prices. What cannot be obtained in our Men's Clothing Department, on the 5th Floor, you will probably find in our Men's Motoring Department on the Fourth Floor.

In the Men's Clothing Department—London-made Raglans, Ulsters, Ulsterettes. Coats finished in America on English model and of English materials, all sizes from 32 to 42, including special models for stout men. These overcoats may now be bought for $21.50, although some of them were as high as $38.50.

Shoes and Pumps
The best qualities only. The lowest prices in the city for those qualities.

At $3.96, a patent colt button shoe with dull tops, light flexible soles and neatly trimmed edges.

At $5.94, patent colt buttoned shoes with dull tops on straight last that narrows down at the toe—making a very dressy shape.

At $2.69, patent colt pumps with light soles, as easy and comfortable as house slippers, yet as dressy as higher priced grades elsewhere.

At $3.96, patent colt pumps with light strong soles made on the best pump last that shapes them in around the top—holding them close to the foot.

Silk Hats $5.49 and $5.94

Flat brims with bell crowns for the younger man; slightly curled brims with higher crowns for the conservative man. Both styles absolutely correct. All made strictly to our order by silk hat specialists. Hats of this quality sell elsewhere at from $6.00 to $8.00.

Dress Shirts; ready for service, $1.98 or to measure, $2.49 and $3.48

Our $1.98 dress shirt embodies the qualities of the custom-made shirt and does away with the details incident to fitting and measuring. Fastidious men who used to have their dress shirts made to measure now benefit by this instant service. The Macy dress shirts come in all sizes, and in various sleeve lengths to each size. They are made by our own workmen on the premises. Front is imported Irish linen, and body a fine cambric—buttonholes are hand-made. Tuxedo Shirts in 14-in. side pleats, also made ready for service; likewise in all sizes and different sleeve lengths, $1.98.

Dress Ties—In club and bat-wing shapes, in piques and dimities, 23c to 44c.

For Tuxedo Wear; barathra and fancy wings, 44c and 68c.
